WAR LOOMS OVER UPPER SILESIA

Entente Circles in Berlin Fear Central Europe May be Involved

GERMANY IS WARNED

Poland Urged to Use Her Power to Calm Population in Disputed Territory.

Berlin, May 10.—Genuine alarm seems to be felt in Entente circles in Berlin that the Polish insurgent seizure of Upper Silesia may result in a German Polish war, with the possibility of all Central Europe being involved in another conflict.

From all accounts, civil war now is spreading throughout Upper Silesia, the Germans having organized locally to repulse the invaders.

So far, the German Government has refused to send Government troops to assist the Silesian Germans, but it is feared here that its resistance cannot last long if the Supreme Council of the Allies does not afford relief from the situation the Poles have created.

Oppeln, May 10.—French soldiers today shot into a crowd of Germans who were threatening a Polish prisoner, killing two and wounding several others.

To assuage the ensuing excitement the Burgomaster issued a proclamation urging the populace to maintain peace and have confidence in the Allied Commission. The agitation here has been visibly increased by the severe wounding of two German policemen in the last two days.

Former German Army officers have taken charge of the district on the west bank of the Oder and are issuing rifles, furnishing machine guns, drilling the population and garrisoning the town. The French and Italian troops are being ignored and are remaining neutral on guard duty, while the entire east bank of the Oder, as far north as Krappitz, is in possession of the Poles.

The Germans have commandeered automobilers and established courier services. The headquarters staff has requisitioned barracks and is accepting volunteers, who have been so numerous that guns were issued to only three men in every 15.

At Krapoltz, a huge flag of the German empire is flying above the market place, over the heads of the small French force there.

Farmer Shot Dead From Ambuscade

Cumberland, Md., May 10.—Harmon Bell, 40 years old, a farmer of near Hopeville, Grant County, West Virginia, was shot from his horse and instantly killed by unidentified parties at Northfork Gap, seven miles west of Petersburg, yesterday morning.

The shooting is thought to have been the outcome of feeling against Bell, who was said to have been accused of informing on moonshiners to revenue officers, and had been told by residents of that section to leave. It is also alleged that Bell had informed of a draft evader.

Several shots were fired by more than one gunman, as the horse Bell was riding through the gap was shot and killed at the same time as the rider. No arrests had been made today but the sheriff of Grant County is investigating.

INDORSE PLANS FOR HAMPTON ROADS

Chamber of Commerce Directors Offer to Co-Operate in its Development

IS FOR THE NATION

Would Mean Much to Alexandria it is Pointed Out—Directors Make Appropriation for Clean up Week

At the Board of Director's meeting of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce held yesterday afternoon the matter of a bigger Hampton Roads was brought to the attention of the body. Following interesting discussion on the question J. Y. Williams was appointed to draft a resolution which is as follows:

The editorial published in the Richmond Times Dispatch regarding Hampton Roads was brought to the attention of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting yesterday and the Chamber unanimously offered to co-operate in the proposed development, which means so much to every section of our State, particularly to Alexandria, it having a physical connection with Hampton Roads, which will become the greatest port in the world. The editorial reads as follows:

"Hampton Roads For The Nation"

Development of Hampton Roads is not a project for the benefit of the cities bordering upon its waters. Neither is it for the particular aggrandizement of the broader divison known as Tidewater, which embraces Richmond and Petersburg. No more, Indeed, is it an undertaking peculiar unto Virginia itself.

The conversion Hampton Roads into the vast transportation and distributing center nature designed it to be, is for the benefit of the nation as a whole, and it is with that broad vision that Virginia must look upon it if it expects to see its dreams for the great roadsted take material form. Virginia here has a task befitting its ancient leadership among the States. If it approaches it vigorously and with a determination to do a national service it will succeed.

In such a national service Norfolk, Newport News, Hampton and all the cities on the Roads, with Richmond and Petersburg actively co-operating are prepared to take the lead. They have demonstrated that by their community spirit. But as the idea grows, all Virginia will join i nand help. On such a foundation and with such cordial support, there is every reason to believe that the Federal government, once the facts are placed before it, will hasten to cooperate, not because Virginia asks it, but because in the development of Hampton Roads rests the solution of the nation's grave transportation problem.

Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, all the Western States, are as vitally interested in that solution which only Hampton Roads offers. Place before them the facts and figures in miles and hours saved, and in dollars and cents of freight tariffs saved, compare them with the facts offered by the congested Northern ports, the narrow necked funnels of the nation's transportation needs, and see how quickly they will respond with assistance.

Let Virginia approach its task with such an understanding, forgetting partisanship, forgetting politics, forgetting State lines, forgetting its own material benefits, forgetting all but that we are one people, with a great transportation question to which Hampton Roads alone can supply the answer for the benefit of whole, and the results will come even more quickly than we have dared to hope."

The directors appropriated $75 to defray incidental expenses for the Clean Up Paint Up campaign May 23 to 28 inclusive. J. Y. Williams, reported for the delegation which attended the 9th Annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States held at Atlantic City recently. The report was accepted and will be turned over to the different bureaus.

R. E. Knight and O. H. Kirk were the other delegates who attended. R. M. Much resigned as a director His successor will be appointed at the next meeting.

ODD FELLOWS CONFER DEGREE OF CHIVALRY

Picturesque and Impressive Feature of State Grand Lodge

MEET AT STAUNTON

Staunton, Va., May 10.—Probably the most picturesque and impressive feature of the eighty-fourth annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, was that staged last night in the Staunton Military Academy gymnasium at a public meeting, when the decoration of chivalry was bestowed.

This ceremony followed "welcome" exercises at the same place, when Major J. W. H. Pilson expressed Staunton's pleasure at having the Odd Fellows here. Joseph A. Glascow welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Augusta and Staunton lodges. Response were made by W. E. Beverly, of Rocky Mount, grand master, and Dr. W. S. Gregory, deputy grand master.

Hugh H. Harlow delivered a welcome on behalf of the Rebekahs, to which Mrs. Emma J. Funk, of Roanoke, president of the Rebekahs, responded.

The following women received the decoration of chivalry under the direction of Chevaliers of Canton, Alexandria No. 1, last night.

Mrs. Minnie C. Martin, Mrs. McMenamin, and Mrs. W. C. Cunningham, of Alexandria; Mrs. W. W. Brown, and Mrs. Lilly Andrews of Staunton; Mrs. Pansy Colgan Frisbee, of Phebus; Miss Anne E. Cochran, of Clifton Forge; Mrs. Belletta C. Friebert, of Portsmouth; Mrs. Mitchell, of Newport News; Mrs. Lily Persinger, of Roanoke, and Mrs. Eva Custine East, of South Richmond.

The 475 subordinate lodges of the grand lodge of Virginia, I. O. O. F., when the register is complete, are expected to have 400 delegates here, while delegates to the grand encompment, Patriarch Militant, and Rebekahs are expected to make the visitors in Staunton for the convention number about 1,000 representing a membership in Virginia of over 30,000.

Today's program included a department council of past masters, had in the Virginia Hotel this morning, and a meeting on the grand encampment in the Staunton lodges hall. Secretaries of the various lodges held a session this afternoon to exchange experiences and methods. Opening business sessions of the grand lodge proper, will noti be held until tomorrow morning at 9.30 in the Beverly Theatre, the Rebekahs assembly meeting at the same time at the Virginia Hotel.

The grand encampment today elected the following officers: Grand Patriarch, Leslie Drew, Richmond; grand senior warden, Fred H. Cole, Petersburg; grand junior warden, W. W. Brown, Staunton; grand scribe, E M. Bunch, Lynchburg; grand treasurer, George W. Hill, Norfolk; grand high priest, Joseph B. Blanks, Petersburg.

The appointive officers of the grand encampment were: John Lancaster, Richmond, grand marshal; W. H. Haney, Claremont, grand inner guardsman; C. A. Creasey, Roanoke, grand outer guardsman; grand representative to the Southern grand lodge W. L. Martin, of Alexandria.

Dr. John Lee Allison, of Alexandria, grand warden of Virginia, was the speaker here Sunday afternoon, at the Beverly Theater, when anniversary exercises were held at a public meeting.

EX-FIREMEN JOIN FRIENDSHIP CO.

Sixty-Four Admitted to Membership in Veterans' Association

OTHERS WILL JOIN

Members of Russell Mitchell Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars Seek to Get Possession of Friendship House

Sixty-four ex-firemen, former members of the Relief Truck Company and the Reliance Fire Engine Company, who recently disbanded in a body, last night were admitted to membership in the Friendship Veterans' Fire Association.

It was stated that they entered as individuals and not as members of any company. Their applications were presented at a special meeting of the veterans held at the company's house.

Discussing the entry of the young blood into the Veterans' Association an ex-firemen stated today that they simply desire to perpetuate the Friendship Veterans' Association as only about seven of its members are now living.

The young men will it is stated, make some improvements to the interior of the company's house located on South Alfred street between King and Prince streets, and hold regular meetings. It also is stated that other former firemen who recently disbanded also propose to join the Friendship Veterans' Association in the near future.

The strengthening of the Veterans Association by the new men means it is stated that the old company will go on without any interruption and that the veterans will take part in parades and other affairs.

News that the ex-firemen had joined this company came as a surprise to the members of Russell Mitchell Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Members of this post recently petitioned city council for the use of this building, and it is expected that action would be taken on this petition at a meetnig of the city council which will be held tonight. It was stated that there were few of the old veterans in existence and that did not hold frequent meetings and for this reason the Veterans of Foreign Wars sought to establish quarters and they proposed to make the building their headquarters. The action of city council is awaited with considerable interest by both sides.

New Playgrounds

Use of Lot on Queen Street Donated For Children

At a committee meeting of the Playground Association held at the Chamber of Commerce recently it was announced that the Society of Friends had kindly loaned the lot on Queen Street for a playground for the children of Alexandria for the coming summer months. A very small number of the association have kept open under the greatest difficulties, financial and otherwise, during the two hot test months a small play ground, this generous offer of the Society of Friends is of the greatest help and it is hoped that the citizens of Alexandria will co-operate with the committee to obtain a permanent playground. Not only is this co-operation sought in financial matters, but also in interest and support in the much-felt need.

It must be evident to all, that the children of our city need some place to play to keep them off the streets. Built up as Alexandria is, with few yards, the streets and alleys become the playground for the children. As a consequence, the influence is not for the best, the pleasures not normal and wholesome and the result is they get into all sorts of mischief. Property is often defaced, fences scribbled on, windows broken, empty houses entered much of which could be avoided were the children on a proper play ground being amused and instructed in many useful pastimes under the direction of directresses, trained in this work.

The Playground Association sincerely thanks the Society of Friends for their kindness in the loan of their property and trusts and hopes that the citizens of Alexandria will come forward and help in securing proper equipment this year as they have done in the past.

Clean Up Plans

Committee Meeting in Progress This Afternoon

The Clean Up Paint Up committee of the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce is holding a meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms for the purpose of formulating definite plans for the Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign May 23 to 28 inclusive, Every organization in the city, civic and otherwise, is asked to co-operate in this campaign which is for cleanliness. More than 700 cities and towns have staged these campaigns which makes homes and cities and towns beautiful, sanitary and safe from the ravages of disease, fire and deterioration. The Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign is no mere "week" of house cleaning. It is a continued and sustained effort and it generally becomes a community institution whose annual renewal of activities in spring is an established custom.

As outlined by the national headquarters in St. Louis while the people of these cities and towns are annually working together to clean up and paint up, the retail merchants and property owners are rewarded by a larger volume of business and the increase or restoration of real estate values. This is in addition to the great benefits derived from the campaign along the lines of civic betterment.

Every indication points to a big success for the track and field meet of the Eighth Congressional district which will be held Saturday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock at the track of the Alexandria High School Many entries have been made and the following is a list of the high schools that will participate in the affair: Warrenton, Leesburg, Manassas, Middleburg and Alexandria High.

It is expected that each team will be accompanied to this city by a large gathering of rooters.

The officials of the local team are loud in ther complaint of motorists who use their track for driving and they request that the practice be immediately discontinued. The local aggregation has experienced considerable difficulty in getting together funds for the completion of this track and they claim if motorists continue to use the track it will be completely ruined.

TO ACCEPT TERMS ON REPARATIONS

Majority Socialists and Clericals Vote to Submit to Demands

TO FORM CABINET

Majority in Reichstag is Asured When Action is Taken—Loebe a Native of Silesia

Berlin, May 10.—Party leaders admitted late last night that there would be available tomorrow in the Reichstag a safe majority in favor of accepting the Allied ultimatum with regard to reparations.

The Majority Socialists and Clericals, in party conferences yesterday voted in favor of accepting the ultimatum of the Allies. The Independent Socialists already had favored yielding, thus assuring a majority, regardless of the stand of the other parties.

The German People's party, by a vote of 59 to 5, rejected the proposition. The Democrats were in session at midnight.

Paul Loebe, of the Majority Socialists and president of the Reichstag, will be commissioned by President Ebert with the task of forming a new Cabinet.

Berlin, May 10.—The decision of the Majority Socialists and the Clericals to yield to the Allied demands for the payment of a war bill of approximately $33,750,000,000, the trial of war criminals and the complete disarmament of Germany foreshadows the formation of a new Government to displace the Fehrenbach Ministry.

The existing coalition, which the outgoing Fehrenbach Ministry represents, is made up of the German People's Party, the Democrats and the Clericals. Although these three parties do not have a majority of the votes in the Reichstag, the coalition Government has succeeded in holding office through the sufferance of the Majority Socialists, who have abstained from voting against the Government on questions of principle.

Although President Ebert is a member of the Fehrenbach Cabinet belonged to that party, and German political leaders long have regarded this situation, in which the President and the Ministry failed to co-operate, as intolerable.

Paul Loebe, to whom it is reported the Chancellorship is to be offered, was the editor of the Socialist newspaper Volkswacht in Breslau, Silesia, prior to his going to Berlin after the overthrow of the Kaiser in 1918 to take active part in Government affairs.

Loebe took office in the reconstructed Scheidemann Ministry in December 1918, as Minister of Social Policy. Subsequently his membership in the Reichstag involved him in other political offices, including the presidency of that body in succession of Konstantin Fehenbach, the head of the outgoing Cabinet.

Chancellor Fehrenbach resigned last week, but at the request of President Ebert he agreed to retain his office and continue to function as the nominal head of the Government until a new Ministry could be constructed. The anticipated resumption of power of a coalition of Majority Socialists, Independents and Clericals marks the first time since the parliamentary elections more than a year ago that the Socialist parties have taken any share in the Ministry. A coalition of these parties has been suggested heretofore, but objections have been raised by the Independents to policies supported by the other two. The fact that all agree in the matter of accepting the Allied terms makes the formation of the coalition feasible for the first time.

Paying the Freight.

The great fight is on between the railroads and the producers of the country over freight rates.

Farmers, stock-raisers and shippers from coast to coast are complaining bitterly of excessive rates charged to get their produce to market. The governors of five states have telegraphed to Washington concerning the havoc they say is being wrought in their states by high freight rates. The Texas director of markets says that 3,000 carloads of perishable vegetables have been lost in that state because it does not pay to ship them. Cattlemen of New Mexico and Texas, who send their herds to Kansa to fatten on the grass, say that they cannot do it this year because of the cost of transportation. The President of the State Board of Agriculture of Oklahoma laments that "virtually all our perishable products will rot in the field." Raisers of oats in Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico cannot get enough money by shipping the crop to pay them for their trouble. Idaho ordinarily ships thousands of cars of alfalfa but will not ship any at all this year to amount to anything. The Michigan iron mines are threatened with the necessity of closing down because of the rates on hauling ore.

The answer to all of which, according to the railroads, is that money is being lost even at the present transportation rates and they cannot afford to reduce them.

The sad aspect of the matter is that, regardless of who is right and who is wrong, the old ultimate consumer will foot the bill. He will pay the freight. If the Texas cabbage crop rots in the field, the supply is diminished and the market price in Alexandria goes up.

There is no other one key which can open up more prosperity, do more to lower taxes, maintain wages and reduce the cost of living, than an intelligent settlement of the transportation troubles of the country. And while Congress sits in its stupidity and impotence, the forces of the two camps are organizing for a fight to the finish.

Mr. Edison and the College Graduate.

Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of invention, after quizzing a group of American college graduates, expresses himself as amazed at the colossal ignorance displayed by the young men who have won their sheepskins. His attack naturally resolves itself into a broadside against our entire system of education in this country. If the college trained man is ignorant, then it follows without gainsaying that the high school graduate and the grammar school graduate must also be classed as ignorant, only more so.

For the pains of which Mr. Edison has brought down upon his head the vials of wrath of those who feel called upon, under any and all provocations, to rush to the defense of the American college and system of education They say that the questions he asked were foolish, as many of them were; that many of them were ambiguous, as well they might be called; and then in a climax of indignation they say he knows nothing himself and that his phonograph has corrupted the minds of the youth of the land to such an extent that it is impossible to educate them.

All this is specious pleading and no reply to Mr. Edison. The real answer to his indictment is that all education is relative; that the average graduate of the college and high school knows only or is supposed to know only a little more than the man without schooling; and that if the same test applied to the college graduates had been applied to the average man in the street without college education, college training would have been justified not by its all sufficiency but by its comparative superiority.

Reckons U. S. Rail Loss is $1,200,000,000

Director General Davis of the Railroad Administration in a report submitted yesterday to chairman Good of the House Committee on Appropriations, estimated that the operating loss to the government during the twenty-six months of Federal control will be approximately $1,200,000,000, or $300,000,000 more than former Director General Hines estimated the total loss would be.

This estimated loss applies only to the period of Federal control and does not include payments on account of the six months guaranty in force following Federal control, which will amount to at least $60,000,000.

Claims of railroad companies filed to date with the Railroad Administration total $633,708,281. If the claims not yet filed are proportionately the same, it is estimated the grand total will be approximately $1,250,000,000.

SPORTS

The Triangle Sport Club will hold a meeting at their treasurer's home, 315 North Columbus street. There will be a lot of changes made at this meeting and would like to see every Triangle present. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

We noticed in Monday's Gazette that the Virginia Midgets had right much to say about our club. We wish to say that we would rather have them tell it to us than to the editor. We publish our club news in the paper and nothing else. This club is a club that holds records in fair play, and we changed the name of our club for teh reason not because we were beaten by the Virginia Midgets with a heavier team, but that we have a different class of boys in this club than in any other club before.

This club has nothing to do with the clubs before and we think that the Triangle Sport Club can hold the record in every sport they play which will be shown through the season.

Having read in the Gazette last night, I take great pleasure in telling the Virginia Midgets that they have never changed our name and never will be able to do so.

In the year 1918, I myself, Horace Edw. Howard, organized the Dread naught Juniors.

In football year 1921, Mr. L. E. Roadhouse offered us his services as coach, and we accepted.

As to the victory claimed by Virginia Midgets, it is incorrect, for during the entire season no game was scheduled with the Virginia M. A. C., and I cannot see how they can claim it as a victory.

What made us change our name from Dreadnaught Juniors to Destroyers' Jr., was because we joined the Destroyers so we could have a hall to play basketall in.

When the Virginia Midgets played us there wasn't half our players on hand, due to the fact that the Virginia Midgets had fooled us three times about getting the Armory.

One of the players absent was Bill Petiitt, one of the fast junior amateur basketball guards in Virginia. Julian Daves who always played with Bill could not show all his ability as a guard, because he had been used to playing with Bill in all games and was not use to any other players.

Petitt and Davis were only two guards, and always worked altogether and could not play with other players.

As to baseball, I myself, will write to the Virginia Midgets and let them know when we want to play

We play when we please and who we please, and we are particular who we play, and may not play them at all in baseball.

As to their world famed batteries, they are twice as large as our players and are not Virginia Midgets at all but Virginia A. C. players.

I, myself, think they should be ashamed to play with such little kids unless they get money for it, and we have no players on our team that play for money.

We not only defeated the Virginia Midgets in baseball, basketball and football, but we also defeated them with the girls and forced them to form a girl's club also. All girls who signed the pledge to become members, are girls whom none of our boys would go with, or those that never did belong to our club.

Virginia Midgets we will let you know when we want to play you as I have said before, I am Manager, and will give you a game when I please. H. E. Howard.

IN MEMORIAM

In pursuance to a resolution of the First Baptist Sunday School of Alexandria, at its session held Sunday Morning, April 24th, 1921, we the undersigned were appointed a committee to prepare a memorial resolution of respect to the memory of our coworker in the Master's Vineyard, Sister Nettie Virginia Pitts, the wife of our beloved and honored Superintendent, Samuel W. Pitts. Sister Pitts was identified with all of the demoninational activities of our Church work and especially so, with respect to our Sunday School, where she co-operated with our Superintendent in fostering the growth of the work under his charge. The removal of our Sister from active co-operation, has deprived us of one honored and beloved, and while we cannot understand these Devine leadings of our Gracious Heavenly Father, we realize that all things work together for good to them that love God, and to them that are called according to his purpose. Oh that all may live in that atmosphere of Love, with that consciousness that these leadings will work out for us "a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory" for when we see Him face to face, it will all be revealed to us, and may we exclaim with the apostle Paul, "For me to live, is Christ, to die is gain." We will miss the familiar form of our sister at our gatherings and likewise miss her counsel and advice. She was faithful to every trust committed, and was always untiring in her efforts for the promotion of the work of our Sabbath School. We appreciate her work in the years behind us, and may we cherish her memory and emulate her virtues.

"In the night of Death, Hope sees a Star, and Listening Love, may hear the rustle of Angels Wings."

We mourn with her loved ones in this hour of their sad bereavement, and while no word of ours can bring comfort to their sorely tried and troubled hearts, we pray God's sustaining Grace may vouchsafe unto them, that comfort, that will lift up their hearts to a throne of rich and heavenly grace. May we realize that our Sister is not dead, but simply away.

"We cannot say, and will not say,
That she is dead,
She is just away!
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since she lingers there.
And you—oh you—who the wildest yearn
For the old time step and the glad return,
Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There, as the love of Here,
Think of her still as the same, I say,
She is not dead, she is just away."

Therefore in obedience to the commission assigned us, and on behalf of the First Baptist Sunday School of Alexandria, we express to our honored Superintendent our deep and abiding sympathy in this hour of his greatest sorrow, and it is our prayer that a Higher Power may console and support him in these days of sad affliction, and may the Holy Spirit be as beacon light to him in pointing him to that heavenly home where she will be standing at the Gate with outstretched hand, to welcome him when he is called hence, where both may be reunited to live through the ages of Eternity in that Heavenly Home, basking in the sunlight of Christ's righteousness.

In behalf and by order of the First Baptist Sunday School, with brotherly affection and love, we Fraternally tender to our Brother Pitts, this memorial in the bonds of Christian Love.

FRESH AIR CAMPS

One of the greatest of the many wonderful institutions of the Salvation Army, because it touches the future citizen, is the Fresh Air Camp.

These breathing spots are for weary mothers and the city-bound youngsters of the tenements.

No joy life ever brings can mean quite so much as the first vision and first breath of the country to the child whose eyes and ears have known anything but cobblestones and forbidding sun stretches of brick walls.

One little girl on the journey to the country remarked disdainfully as the train passed a city park with its perfection of clipped lawns and untouchable shrubbery.

"That's man's woods—I want God's woods!"

Last year in the United States 6,000 worn out, heat jaded mothers, and 33,366 poor children were given from a week to two weeks at the seaside or in the country by the Salvation Army.

Think what such a treat means to children who have never before had green grass to walk, roll or sit upon, trees to climb, or the chance to wade and play in the sand, to say nothing of the wholesome food and pure air.

In Maryland, a Fresh Air Camp was conducted at Jackson Grove, near Odenton, for several years, where each week from fifty to sixty city youngsters were sent for a week during the period from July to September, to revel in the delights of the country. However, a lack of funds, forced the discontinuance of this regular camp and the substitution of day's outings at nearby river resorts.

Droves of a thousand to fifteen hundred children have spent glorious days in this manner.

MYSTIC SHRINERS GREETED BY HARDING AT INITIATION

Washington, D. C., May 10.—The institutions of our government are secure so long as such men as the nobles of the Mystic Shrine stand solidly behind them, President Harding told 3,500 nobles who attended the May ceremonial of Almas Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., at Poli's last night. The theater was crowded with local Shriners and with many visitors who are in Washington to attend the annual convention of the National League of Masonic clubs which opens tomorrow. The President watched 70 initiates go "over the hot sands" and said that it was a great pleasure for him to slip away "from the hot sands of office and mingle with his brother nobles."

"I have many callers and supporters these days, some of whom are very urgent in offering their services, but it is indeed a pleasure and an inspiration to me to know that the nobles of the Mystic Shrine are back of me and that the services they offer are unselfish. I need your friendship and your brotherly support and I know that success to our American institutions and this republic is assured when I know that they are supported by such men as you," President Harding said.

MARINES IN HAITI UPHELD BY DENBY

"It is the same old rot."

Charges of use of the "water cure" and other tortures upon the Haitians have been the subject of investigation by Major General John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Rear Admiral Harry S. Knapp, without confirmation.

Secretary Denby says he would welcome investigation by Congress.

IMMIGRANTS FOUND 30 PER CENT DEFECTIVE

"Last week," said the secretary, "the steamship Asia arrived at New York with 800 immigrants from Grecian and Italian ports." Examination proved that 30 per cent of the arrivals were physically unfit and had to be sent back.

The bandits' machine "pocketed" the paymaster's automobile and forced it to the curb. When it stopped the bandits from two of the cars alighted, leveled shot guns at the three men in the pay car and rifled the lock boxes. The bandits' three cars then sped away in different directions.

Armed Guards Hunt Escaped Girl Prisoners

Bedford, N. Y., May 10.—Mounted State constabulary, armed prison guards, police officers and reformatory matrons spread out over the area between this place and the Connecticut State line, five miles away last night in an attempt to head off ten girls, inmates of the Bedford Reformatory, who escaped in a jail delivery just after the supper hour.

The girls who escaped had been at supper in the mess hall and were being escorted back to their dormitory by Mrs. Mary Stanton, matron. The matron counted noses and left her prisoners on a veranda while she went indoors to get a wrap. Two minutes later, on returning to her charges, she found ten were missing and the alarm was given.

Dr. Baker superintendent, said he thought there had been no plan of escape, but rather that the girls seized the opportunity on the spur of the moment.

Dog Was Suicide, Motorist's Reply to Suit for $1,000

Boston, May 10.—To the contention of John Chasson, in a suit for $1,000 damages, that his dog was using due care when he was killed on the street by an automobile driven by Peter J. Donaghue, the latter answered in the superior court today that the animal was a suicide.

The court thus has two unusual questions to decide: "Whether a dog may be said to have used due care and whether a dog may be considered to have ended its life intentionally."

Mr. Donaghue, who is an attorney, in his answer said:

"The dog was crossing the street in front of the defendant's automobile. He suddenly turned and revolved in a circle, snapping and biting at other animals. Becoming despondent at his inability to dislodge said animals, he hurled himself under the defendant's automobile, and thereby committed suicide."

ALLIES WARN GERMANY TO KEEP ITS HANDS OFF

Paris, May 10.—The Allies took another step today in the direction of restoring order in Upper Silesia by warning the Berlin Government to keep its troops out of the Silesian territory. At the same time Poland was emphatcally urged "to use all her power to calm the British population" in the disputed province.

Ambassador Wallace attended the meeting of the Council of Ambassadors at which the note to Warsaw was passed upon, and his reappearance in that body won him a warm welcome from his colleagues.

Present by President Harding's orders and only in a consultative capacity, the American envoy voiced no opinion on the Silesian problem and did not participate in the vote. The Council also decided to do everything possible to enlighten the Silesian population that no decision whatever has been reached as to their country's future frontiers.

The note to Germany was transmitted by the French Government in reply to the German note to the Allies of last Thursday, in which it was intimated that Germany was willing to lend armed assistance to the Allied forces in Silesia. France sternly rejects the offered aid, expressing confidence in the Allied Commission's ability to re-establish tranquillity in the troubled district.

The latest reports received at the Quai d' Orsay, however, reveal a situation of extreme gravity with which Gen. Le Rond's troops may be powerless to cope. The German inhabitants of the plebiscite are, it appears, being supplied with arms smuggled across the frontier. This development is likely to lead to further Entente protests to Berlin.

The Tabernacle of the Great Outdoors

The Salvation Army is the most gigantic evangelistic movement for the common people in the World.

Recognizing neither creed, caste or color, it achieves where all other agencies fail.

With 18,000 officers in 70 countries and colonies, it preaches the gospels of love and redemption in 42 languages.

It has held 48,000 indoor meetings of which, in the United States, the attendance has been 5,949,454 and 34,000 street meetings with an attendance of 18,018,440 people.

Fully a third or 6,000,000 of this great army of the unchurched would never otherwise have heard a sermon.

In the United States alone, the Army has converted 32,738 converts as the result of the efforts of The Salvation Army workers in its 963 Corps.

In connection with its preaching has come the establishment of Relief Efforts and in the past year 10,375 families have been visited.

In order to facilitate its work, The Salvation Army issues 82 periodicals; its chief publication called the "War Cry," has a circulation of 6,171,940 in twelve months.

The Salvation Army conducts 58 hotels for men and two for women. In these establishments it has supplied 1,500,000 beds and 371,000 meals. In the year's span also 1,000 meetings have been conducted with an attendance of 32,170 people.

The Army reports 32,738 converts as the result of a year's work which means just that many less charges upon the public charity and that many more producers and good citizens.

The Salvation Army seeks those who will never seek the churches and they find them in the slums, paths and streets in all degrees of destitution and desperation and indifference. The voice of the Army speaker or singer is the "Voice crying in the Wilderness," the lonely wilderness of the city streets.

So also in the prisons and jails, the poorhouses, hospitals and army camps, the Gospel is carried in a spirit of fellowship and love that sooner or later rouses a spark of manhood in the lowest criminal.

Thus the Salvation Army supplements the work of the churches and indirectly recruits for them.
